Yolande Crowle and family would like to thank everybody for their great kindness and offers of help in their recent bereavement. A large sum of money has been raised for the Air Ambulance. The total will be given next month as money is still coming in.

My dear Parishioners of Blisland, St. Breward and Temple,

'Bright October was come, the misty-bright October' wrote the poet Arthur Hugh Clough in 'The Bothie of Tober-na-Vuolich' a poem about a student reading party in Scotland during which a young man named Philip falls in love with Elspie, a peasant lass who represents 'work, mother earth, and the objects of living.' There was no place for them in English Society and so off they went to New Zealand.

After a somewhat dull summer this year we hope to enjoy a bright October during which one of our two Harvest Thanksgiving's will take place. Of the four agricultural festivals (Plough Sunday and Monday, Rogationtide, Lammas and the Harvest), Lammas alone is without secular customs for it is a purely sacred occasion. It is 'loaf-mass' at which loaves of bread were consecrated having been made from the first ripe corn.

In the Middle Ages the Harvest itself, the in-gathering, remained virtually a heathen festival. We owe our Thanksgiving for Harvest Eucharist to Parson Hawker of Morwenstow. In the summer of 1843 he issued a notice to his flock, inviting them to receive the Blessed Sacrament on the following Sunday 'in the bread of the new corn', thus reviving the habit of the ancient Lammas, though later in the year.

As we give thanks to God for the Harvest we should remember all those throughout the world who are undernourished because of famine or flooding and support those organisations which arrange for famine relief. And our thanks for food should not be confined to Harvest Thanksgiving. We should say Grace before all our meals. 'Bless this food to our use and ourselves to your service' is a simple form of prayer we can offer to God.

God bless you and all whom you love,

EDWIN STARK

SCHOOL TRIP 1988

Following last month's accounts of the childrens trip to School Camp, this month is the turn of those Juniors who did not go to camp but went instead on a visit to Treworgie Barton Nature Trail and then to the beach at Crackington Haven.

We had to decide where we were going to sit on the mini-bus. When we got there we had a snack. Then we set off on the walk. We had six points and on each point we had something to look for. We saw a bird but we could not tell what it was because it was too far away and when we got close it flew away. We saw a rare orchid. We were lucky to see it. Then we had some lunch and then we went to the beach.

Daniel Guilfoyle.

When we came to the Nature Trail we had something to eat. When we had what we wanted we went down the path and saw a yellow flower that was on our flower map. Half way down we found some pignut. It looked like cauliflower. We saw oak ash Hazel and honeysuckle. We stopped to write some sounds down. Then we saw a squirrel. When we went down the path we found some fungi, so we picked it up and put it on a stick. At point six we found a butter well. By the butter well there was a stile and we went over it and went in to a field that had cows in and we went to have some more lunch and then we went to the beach afterwards.

Stephanie Simpson & Katherine Dunkin.

After the nature trail we went to Crackington Haven beach and we had fun. We climbed rocks and Alistair and I found a dead crab. Then Alistair spotted a big rock pool and a cave that smelt bad. I fell in and when I got up I slipped in again. Everyone laughed at me and we went to the little shop there. Then we went home and Mrs. Burgess said I had lip stick on but it was my red sweet.

Jacob Waudby.

When we got to the beach we went to the shop. When we got out of the shop we started to climb the rocks. We saw a crab but it was dead. Mr. Duxbury picked it up and put it on the little rocks. We looked at the stones and I slipped on a rock. We found a cave. It was very wet and slimy. Then we picked up two stones which we liked and got back in the bus and went back. We saw a lot of things. When we got back to school we were very tired but we had enjoyed it.

Mark Harding.

BLISLAND - a view from 1946

In 1946 when my husband was demobbed, we came to farm at Simons Stone, a farm of 149 acres on the road that now runs past the new reservoir, Colliford Lake, to St. Neot. We were very green having only my few years as a land girl in Berkshire, behind us. We were kindly treated by our neighbours to whom we must certainly have appeared nearly, if not completely, mad. Bert Hooper his wife Freda and their daughters lived across the moor from us and taught us a great deal that we needed to know. Bert loved to tease us and show up the depths of our ignorance about moorland farming.

Bert introduced us to Denzil Roose who remained a friend for many many years and from whom we bought our first breeding heifers. We went to Poundsconce with Bert and spent an hour or more looking at a huge collection of assorted store cattle in the windblown yard behind the house and picked out ten we fancied, then the four of us proceeded to Blisland's Royal Oak to seal the deal. The inside of the pub was very different then, much darker and with a small bar at the end of a long room where the local population were sitting on high backed settles. To be honest I don't remember too much about that visit because I had developed a raging cold and Bert said he knew just the thing to set me right. I never discovered what he ordered for me, but whatever it was it certainly did the trick - I woke the following morning as bright as a bird and without any sign of a cold. Perhaps Bert should have patented his magic potion - it might have made him rich.

The little herd we bought that day were put out on rough grazing to qualify for the hill cattle subsidy without which we probably would not have survived the rigours and losses of that legendary hard winter of 1946/7.

For many weeks we were cut off from the outer world by immense snowdrifts. I was expecting my first child in the late Spring and sometimes it was as much as I could do to climb over the mountains of snow that blew up behind the house, to go out and feed round. In the yard, the breeding heifers would be waiting with icicles hanging off their eyelashes, for the meagre ration of poor quality hay that was all we could afford. My reward came when I singled out my house cow and took her into the dry haven of the cow house where, sitting on a three legged stool, I would be warm and safe, my head on her flank, as I milked her. She was a North Devon - or Ruby - with curving cream coloured, black tipped horns. She had the temperament and rich milk of a Channel Island cow. We bought her as a second calver, with her heifer calf at Liskeard market - she cost us £35. She was in calf again during that hard winter and I was very anxious to have my baby before she calved. I didn't trust anyone else in the whole of Cornwall to milk her! I won by ten days I'm glad to say. She had a little bull calf (Simon) and I a little daughter (Liz).

The next time we visited Blisland after the pub incident, was a sunny evening in June, and I remember how we marvelled at the prettiness of the green, with its many big trees - it seemed a haven of calm compared with our high moorland acres. We had seen an advert in the local paper for saddleback gilts, and we certainly wanted a little pig, but we had no telephone (nor did we have electricity or running water) at Simons Stone, and petrol was still rationed, so we always tried to have more than one objective when we took the car out (a 1928 Sunbeam with a fabric body who often rebelled at the moorland damp and refused to start). However while we were hesitating we were brought a message to say that Denzil had two little heifers going cheap and he thought we would like to have them.

So off we went to Blisland and looked up Mr. and Mrs. Nelder at Churchtown farm which was half of what is now called the Mansion House. We were given a warm welcome and because Percy was out on some errand, spent a happy hour talking to Mrs. Nelder and hearing what life had been like before the war. After tea we went out to see the litter of piglets and carried off one little saddleback who we called Bliss (what else?). She became an integral part of our farming economy.

Denzil's two heifers were dreadful. No experienced two-year old would have given them a second glance - but I was soft hearted and silly. I looked at their mean bodies, the staring hides stretched over protruding hip bones and toast-rack rib cages and imagined that if I took them home and administered tender loving care, they would turn miraculously into beautiful breeding beasts. Denzil had the laugh on us that time because nine months later, after they had been fed on more than their share of the meagre rations we could afford for the cattle, we sold them for the same price as we'd paid him for them.

Well that was Blisland as we first knew it. We always felt at home there and thought of it with affection - and ten years later we returned to live at Lavethan - but that's another story.

Ruth Lumley-Smith.

BLISLAND SCHOOL GYMKHANA

The second annual Blisland School Gymkhana was held at Pengelly Farm Blisland by kind permission of Mr. W. Matthews. There were 52 entries and £200 was raised for school funds. First Prizewinners were : Lucy Booth; Amanda Lobb; Sue Ratcliffe, Blisland; Clover Clarkson, St. Breward; Jenny Rich, Blisland; Katie McCarron, Blisland; Cilla Cummings; Kirsty Beck; Paula Mead, Cheryl Stonleigh, Gavin Larson, Blisland; Louise Parkinson; Emma Cummings; Victoria Bain, St. Breward; Michelle Sandry.
Shields for the most points went to Lucy Booth, eight years and under; Kirsty Beck 12 and under; Emma Cummings, 13 and over. The cup for the most clear rounds went to Kirsty Beck.

At Camelford Hall an all day event resulted in proceeds of £1,156 being collected for the renal unit at Treliske Hospital, which was presented to Dr. John Barnes, the renal unit consultant by Mrs. Madge Dingle, of Penvorder, St. Breward. The event was held to collect funds in memory of Robert, son of Mrs. Dingle, who died last June from kidney failure having undergone four heart by-pass operations during the past 2½ years. Dr. Barnes congratulated the Dingle family on their magnificent effort and said that Robert's name would be inscribed on one of the kidney machines at the hospital.

MID CORNWALL BRANCH OF MULTIPLE SCLEROSIS

This year saw a record get together of M/S people for the annual Pint & Pasty on the Village Green on Sunday July 31st. The weather was kind to us and everybody said how much they enjoyed their visit.

The winners from the Summer Draw for the David Pethick Holiday Fund for M/S were, D. Harvey, N. Brewer, Mrs. F. Richards, Mr. Nobley, V. Pearce, Peggy, P. Pengelly, J. Sullivan, S. Parker, S. Bennett, C. Wills, A. Cox, P. Clarke, J. Best. Proceeds from this draw was £465.50p. The winner of the weeks Caravan Holiday prize very kindly gave it back and asked us to give it to a person with M/S. On the 27th August we took a mum with M/S and her family to the caravan and in their own words, 'they had a marvellous week's holiday'. Thanks to all who helped us sell the tickets.

On August 13th we held a Coffee Morning in the Church Institute, Blisland. The stalls were laden with all kinds of bargains and gifts. The cake and produce stall looked very tempting and was soon looking bare. The winners of the Raffle were S. French who gave his prize back to be auctioned, Mr. A Wilkins and Mrs. G. Masters. Many thanks to everybody who came to buy and to all who helped us to raise the sum of £173.84p.

The account written below was by Beth Carhart a M/S sufferer from St. Ervan who was the first lady to be sponsored by the David Pethick Fund for M/S.

To begin our holiday at Orcombleigh we were welcomed by the W.R.V.S. mid-afternoon with tea and biscuits then shown around and given time to meet staff and guests and settle in.

Our bedroom was large with a wonderful view of the sea, hotel garden and summer house. The staff were helpful and very welcoming, we were soon on first name terms.

We started each day with early morning tea in bed, followed at nine by a huge breakfast, at one a three course lunch and at six, dinner, and to finish each day a hot bedtime drink. There was a sunlounge and a bar opened each evening for those whowanted it, there was also a TV. Video, games and puzzles in the sitting room plus colour T.V. in all bedrooms.

BLISLAND SHEEPDOG TRIALS - LANXON FARM

This took place on 16th August 1988. Radio Cornwall forecast a bright warm day for the trial, and low and behold they were right, it was sunny and hot. Plus an unrivalled view of the countryside as a backdrop, a perfect setting for the sheepdog trial.

In the driving class Mr. Tom Cox from Whitchurch, came first with his dog Fly with 86 points, and the Lanxon Cup; 2nd was Mr. Bobby Watson from Postbridge, Dartmoor with his dog Flo with 84 points; 3rd was Mr. Tom Cox with his dog B.J. with 81 points; 4th was Mr. Bev Bond with Gyp with 78½ points. Best out-run lift and fetch was taken by Mr. Tom Cox. Mr. D. Hooper of Draynes judged the Driving Class.

First in the Maltese class was Mr. Guy Old of West Rose Farm with 78 points with his dog Fred, Guy took the Maxine Down Shield; 2nd was Mr. Bev Bond of Stratton with his dog Spot with 75 points; 3rd was Mr. Tom Cox with Beck with 74 points. Best pen and shed was by Mr. Bev Bond. In the novice class Mr. John Carter of Delabole came first with his dog Murph with 52 points and took the Dr. Bulstrode Cup; 2nd was Mrs. Keen with her dog Kate with 45 points. The Maltese class and Novice class were judged by Mr. George Coltan of South Petherwin, who is the President of the Cornwall Sheepdog Society and George sponsored the prize money of £40.00.

Lt. Col. Crosby Garstin introduced the Baroness von Haan of Austria, who presented the prizes. The Baroness during World War II was a member of the Resistance, twice arrested by the Gestapo, but managed to escape. Many thanks to Mr. Trevarthen and his wife for their active help. Mike who is Chairman of the Village Hall Committee co-ordinated the help from the Blisland WI and his own members, plus organising our electric supply and helping in every sphere.

Thanks due to Mr. Viv Bellringer for putting up the course, assisted by Mr. J. Allott and Mr. J. Gibson; Mrs. Mavis Miles for organising the raffle, Mr. and Mrs. Gurr for the use of their caravan and running refreshments with her band of helpers, and for the ladies that baked cakes etc. Also Mr. Harold Rich for lending us his caravan toilet, Mr. Todd for supplying the electricity for the Ice Cream stall, and Mr. Rodney Keat for giving us a bag of dog feed.

Last but not least, Mr. Charlie Rush for letting us use his fields, and the use of his sheep. He also spent all day letting sheep out, a job that was hot and sticky and physically exhausting mainly unthanked and unglamorous. Without it there would be no trial, ably helped by Mr. Kevin Greenaway and Guy Old junior.

The trial in aid of the Village Hall made £120.50.

BLISLAND VILLAGE HALL

As Chairman of Blisland Village Hall, I wish to express sincere thanks on behalf of the Management Committee, to Mr. L. Burns for the generous donation of £120.50 raised at the Blisland Sheep Dog Trials. Thanks also to Mrs. M. and Mr. C.J. Rush for the use of their fields and sheep etc. This money will help pay for materials used on our refurbishment plans which include both interior and exterior paintwork. The labour needed to carry out this task has been promised by the Manpower Service Committee. We expect this to be underway by the time you read this.

Card Tables - A special thanks to Mrs. M. Miles our caretaker, who on her own initiative donated the first prize for a raffle and set about selling tickets. The money raised including a coffee evening and a bring and buy sale amounted to £161.00 to be used specifically for new card tables.

BLISLAND PARISH COUNCIL

There were many items to discuss after the August break, including the problem of the smell at Lanxon and street lighting. The Cornwall Structure Plan was commented on and a letter will be sent setting out various points. The telephone box in Blisland is now a listed building. Members were sorry to hear of Leslie Rowe's recent stay in hospital and send their best wishes for a speedy progress to good health.

Barbara Sharp.

Twice a week the League of Friends came with stalls, clothes, gifts etc. for anyone not wanting to face the town shops. The Hydrotherapy pool and Jacuzzi was supervised one day a week with Matron and an excellent Physiotherapist, only too pleased to discuss exercises to improve posture or stress points; we found our sessions very relaxing and helpful.

We had trips in the ambulance bus to Dawlish, Teignmouth and Bicton Mill with extra picnic teas, the countryside and sea was at its best. On Monday evening we were taken to Exeter's Little Theatre to see an amateur production of J.B. Priestly's comedy, 'When we are married', greatly enjoyed by us all. The last day gave us a chance to use the mobile hairdresser that calls at the hotel, also a last trip to Exeter to sightsee or shop. In the evening the bar staff put on a bingo session with plenty of friendly banter.

Too soon it was time to say our good-byes having made many new friends on our happy relaxing week.

Our very sincere thanks to Maureen and Arthur Chipman who made it all possible by their hard work in launching their holiday fund for M.S. patients in memory of her beloved son David.

Len and Beth Carhart.
