LETTERS

Mavis Miles, Kenneth Harris and Family would like to thank everybody who donated monies in leiu of flowers for my late husband Tony.

Three amounts were as follows

PCC	£98.11
Churchyard	£98.10
Heart Foundation	£281.22

My thanks to everybody

Thank You

Robin & Lisa Teague would like to say a big thank you to everyone who has sent cards and presents and for all the phone calls since the birth of their daughter Kathryn Anne.

LETTERS

We had very mixed feelings when we said goodbye to the Sunday Club, on April 6th. It was very sad to be leaving, but the service and reception were wonderful. Everyone was so kind and so much effort had been put into everything it was quite overwhelming.

It was lovely to see 21 children in church with 13 of them in the choir. After the service we were whisked away to a beautifully decorated Village Hall and a fantastic spread with a beautifully iced cake. We could hardly believe our eyes when we were presented with gifts, flowers and cards.

It was something we will never forget and we hope there will be many occasions when we will be able to come back and see everyone. We hope Catherine McShee will get enough help to keep the Sunday Club going.

We thank Catherine for all she has done and everyone - children and adults - for making it such a memorable occasion.

Goodbye and Thank You Everyone.

Barbara and Richard Kendall would like to thank everyone in the village for their kindness, visits, cards, flowers and good wishes during Mum's short illness and bereavement. Special thanks to Liz Hillson for her care and friendship during the time they were away. To all those who attended the funeral and Football Club afterwards, thank you, it was always Mum's wish to go with a good party - Thank you everyone.

St Breward Church Sunday Club

After many years of running the Sunday Club, Pat & Brenda Bennett are now leaving the village. They will be greatly missed as they did so much for the children and we had a weekly attendance averaging 18 children which was wonderful for the church. We would all like to say a big thank you to them for all their hard work and wish them well for the future.

This does however leave the Sunday Club with a problem! I'm sure none of the parents would wish to see the club close therefore we need your help. We need leaders and helpers and are trying to draw up a rota so nobody has to help every week. If you feel you can help, please contact me on 850435 as soon as possible.

Dear Friends,

With recent changes and developments in our Sunday Club/School arrangements, I thought I would comment on the Ministry to Children in general and its place in our parishes in particular. I firmly believe that work in introducing the Christian Faith to the young is of utmost importance, and I would like to play tribute to the work that has been going on here over a number of years. So, first of all, our gratitude to Brenda and Pat Bennett for their efforts in making the Sunday Club so successful and popular - their contribution to the development of many youngsters will be remembered and appreciated by parishioners, parents, clergy and the young people themselves for many years to come.

I feel strongly that this work must continue, and so I am indebted to Catherine McShee and Deanne Kendall in St Breward and Blisland respectively for agreeing to Coordinate efforts, encourage helpers and to support 'the cause' in general, but we do need volunteers from parents and friends in both parishes for our plans to work.

At St Breward, we have already embarked on the Family Service on the first Sunday monthly, and I warmly encourage the children to bring their parents because this way, children grow up in the faith more naturally with support and encouragement of parents. Don't be perturbed if you are unfamiliar with the service - page numbers and explanations are given out so that everyone is at ease, while if the very young appear to be too active physically or vocally, I am sure we can cope! It is likely in the first instance that the Sunday Club itself will meet on the FOURTH Sunday only because of the shortage of adult help, so may I encourage choir members to come to the Sunday Service on the other Sundays (2nd & 3rd Sundays) where they will always be welcomed and made to feel at home - their contribution to the singing is appreciated and their presence brings vitality to the service.

In the first instance, the Blisland Sunday School will meet in the Institute for the whole session so that teachers and children can get to know each other and feel at home, but we hope to see the situation develop with the Sunday School becoming more involved with our Sunday Worship.

While devoting a whole letter to the Ministry of Children, I would like to close by emphasising that the Church is made up of all generations, and that we all have a role in the life of this great family.

Yours sincerely,
Father David

Dear Friends,

Apart from Obby Oss, what took place on May 1st? What is the major topic of the national news at the moment?

Dont stop reading; I promise not to mention the over mentioned `E` word. But isn't it amazing how much time, effort and money we put into making decisions that will affect us for the next five years, and yet how little we put into making decisions that will affect the whole of our life and eternity. Our choices in all of these issues are important of course. Sometimes Christians are tempted to neglect making decisions that affect life today in favour of living only for eternity. Are they right? Some Jewish leaders came to Jesus one day to ask his opinion of such matters. Showing them a Roman coin with Caesar's inscription, this was his opinion. "Give to Caesar what is Caesar's and give to God what is God's". So surely then, both national decisions and spiritual decisions are important to everyone. Why then I wonder, do we as a nation spend so little time, effort and money on the spiritual issues that will affect us for eternity? If only we all spent just one hour at worship each week, that would be a start, would it not. May God grant you and I wisdom in all the important decisions of life in answer to our prayers.

Yours very sincerely,

Brian, Methodist Pastor

Bett Bate
21st April 1936 - 26th March 1997

Bett was a lively member of the Parish and the life and soul of many a party. She enjoyed life to the full and always gave thanks for her good fortune in coming to St Breward after her childhood in Scotland.

Bett came to the village as a young bride of seventeen after marrying Bill. Following much travel as an Army couple, they returned home to settle in 1966.

She worked in the Old Inn alongside Mrs Marshall and Yolande Crowle and many stories are told about their times there. Bett introduced the Scottish tradition of first footing to the village much to the delight and consternation of the recipients.

After losing her beloved Bill prematurely in 1988, she lost a little of her former sparkle, but continued to be a staunch member of the Football Club and the Ladies Darts team at the Old Inn. She enjoyed many happy times with her friends and was especially delighted with her 60th birthday party at the Football Club last year. The cry of "Lisbet We're going, Now!" will no longer ring out above the hubbub, nor will we be privileged to hear her famous put-downs to some over-exuberant teenager.

Described as "a little legend" she will be deeply missed by her family and friends.

apart from the God who created us and preserves us, leads to unhealthy obsession. If we lose the object of our obsession (our idol) we experience devastation of our soul. To avoid making such idols, is to have satisfaction in life and a freedom to enjoy what we have, rather than pine for that which we may have lost. God is forever.

Editorial Once again the magazine is almost ready to go to the printers. there is lots I wanted to include and ideas I want to try out, but time has beaten me. My wife says that disorganisation like mine is a singularly pure art form and should have gallery space at the Tate in St Ives. (She's been reading the Sunday Supplements again!)

Please keep sending articles and notices as early as possible; I will fit them in where and when I can. I am always receptive to new ideas which will brighten up the magazine. I am disappointed that organisations from the 3 villages do not feel that it is important to be included in their parish magazine - the second most widely read publication in the parishes. SWEB's electricity bills are the most widely read but the magazine is more interesting. Or is it? Let us know. If you have something for sale why not advertise in the Parish magazine. for a small fee you can have a single insertion. DENIS LUSBY

Moorland Tales

The moor is easily accessed from both Blisland and St Breward, and it is an area I like to walk.

Probably my favourite walk takes me past King Arthur's Hall and on to a magic stream beside a small conifer wood. If the sun is shining this is a lovely spot for a break, and even if it is not you can pause out of the wind. When I am feeling energetic I go on past Garrow and over Brown Willy. When I get to the stream which ends the area of special interest, I go slightly right to the most northern end of Rough Tor, before coming back along the spine of the Tor. On the way back I complete the circuit by going over Alex Tor and so back to the road.

As time has gone on I have learned to recognise the remains of those people who were living in good numbers on the moor when the comet that we have been so lucky to see was here before. I wonder what they called it, those four and a half thousand years ago. Certainly not Hale-Bop! The area just off the path which goes just below Garrow Tor is a plastered with the remains of the huts left by these ancient people. With all the space around it is interesting to note how close together these huts were. As in our time some dwellings are bigger than others. Some are single roomed, but other were clearly two roomed. If you look back to Garrow as you start to climb towards Brown Willy, giving you a good excuse to catch your breath as well as begin to enjoy the view, it is easy to see the field boundaries. This is particularly clear in the early part of the year when the new bracken has not yet grown. These small fields were a good size in the days of hand work, and are still to be seen in use on the Isles of Scilly.

On either end of Brown Willy are very large piles of stone. As stones roll down hill not up it is worth thinking of the respect that the people had for their loved ones when they put them to rest at the top of the hill. The map shows us that they are burial cairns. There is a ring of graves around the rock which tops the hill at the north end of Rough Tor, although I had not notice them until I dared myself to climb on to the top of the rock and looked down. There are more cairns to be seen, the best I have yet seen is on top of Alex Tor and seems to be the same design as those in rather better repair on St Mary's.

On the walk I have described it is possible to see three stone circles in different states of repair, the most obvious one is just below Rough Tor. It is interesting to note that the circles always seem to be a little away from the huts, suggesting a place where people could go to sort out their various problems, and most likely in a religious setting.

Next month I will return to the Moor to consider the wild life, some of which I suspect was there when these Bronze Age people were here.

Incidentally if you cannot trace your ancestry back to these ancient people, you or your family are probably Emmitts as well!

Dear Mrs & Mrs Bousfield.

Please don't blame the Postal Services for the late delivery of our Christmas Aerogramme. Marjorie and I, together with our daughter, son-in-law and their 3 sons spent Christmas in the Kruger National Game Park - it is not a place where you get time for writing, particularly if you go as a family. In the mornings the visitors may leave the 'camps' at sunrise to travel about looking for game in their natural habitat. In december. 'sunrise' meant 4.30am; we would travel around leisurely, stop at nominated spots for meals etc, maybe going back to camp for an afternoon rest then continuing with our animal seeking until having to be in camp by 6.30pm. In the evenings it was chatter - and more chatter - until we went early to bed to be prepared for the next early morning. That is why I returned home with unwritten aerogrammes. Our daughter and her family are keen conservationists and are very knowledgable on the animal and bird life of this huge park which the brochures state is equal in size to Wales. I prefer to compare it in size with the southern counties England up to about Southampton, as its impossible to cover this in a single holiday then one has to book in at a 'Camp' which is a suitable centre for the area of ones choice. We came here at the seaside resort of Urongo yesterday, the temperature is 28°C/83°F. Our room overlooks the Indian Ocean.

Joe and Dai were watching a John Wayne film on the TV. In one scene John Wayne was riding madly towards a cliff.

"I bet you £10 that he falls over the cliff," said Dai.
"Done," said Joe.

John Wayne rode straight over the cliff.

As Joe handed over his £10, Dai said. "I feel a bit guilty about this. I've seen the film before."

"So have I," said Joe. "but I didn't think he'd be fool enough to make the same mistake twice."

Members had been looking forward to the start of our summer opening and getting together again. Especially as we had been invited to lunch at the home of Mrs Betty Donnelly's at Meadow plash. Because of illness and our secretary away to a family funeral, only 8 out of our 12 members were able to attend. However we were entertained to an excellent meal which everyone enjoyed. When it came to holding our AGM in the afternoon most members I am sure, would have preferred to sit back and have a little nap, we felt so replete. I read our secretaries report and our treasurer informed us of the financial situation of the club. These were accepted and an agreed programme to take us to October were detailed. On completion of business we played bingo. Before departure, tea was prepared and we were presented with a cream sponge made specially for us by a neighbour, Mrs Wallace. Many thanks to both ladies for such an enjoyable outing.

With a change of printer we have been able to put back the copy deadline for the magazine. This enables us to have a more up to date report from Blisland WI. Consequently we have 2 reports this month. Denis Lusby Editor

Blisland WI March Meeting

How the last 12 months have flown and once again it is now time for the annual meeting, but before the presentation of accounts and the voting of new officers the final ordinary meeting of the year took place. In matters arising, it was pleasing to hear that the Meningitis Coffee Morning raised £133.70. A big thank you to everyone who either attended, helped and provided articles for the Bring & Buy stall. It was agreed that as everyone had prior commitments we would not exhibit at this Year's Royal Cornwall Show.

The winners of the Annual competitions were:-
Flowers 1st & £5 voucher Mrs Barwood 2nd Mrs Aspinall 3rd Mrs O'Donnell
General 1st & £5 voucher Mrs Barwood 2nd Mrs Willcocks 3rd Mrs Pierce
Mrs Barwood was presented with a presentation plate sent to us from our twin WI in New Zealand. A photograph album presented to us on our Golden Anniversary by the County Chairman will be used to record events appertaining to our WI.

As the VCO Ms Wadey did not arrive to take the second part of the meeting, Mrs Walford carried on in her capacity as President. The Secretary gave a full report of the year's events in our WI, followed by a detailed account of our finances by the Treasurer. Mrs Walford then thanked the officers for all their dedicated work and for the tremendous support everyone had given her throughout her term of office. She went on to say that the WI had so much to offer in every way, the one thing that she would remember most was the wonderful friendship she had received in all her years as a member. The officers were duly elected: Mrs Wendy Gurr - President; Mrs Val King continues as Treasurer; Miss Jane Runnalls & Mrs Wendy Barwood continue as our Secretaries.

After a welcome refreshment break, we enjoyed a resume from Mrs Gwen Masters of the Women's Institute of the last 50 years.

The competition results were:-
General 1st Mrs O'Donnell 2nd Mrs Barwood 3rd Mrs Willcocks
Flower of Month 1st Mrs Barwood 2nd Mrs O'Donnell 3rd Mms Aspinall & Pierce

Dai and Joe had been dragged to bingo by their wives. Soon after the bingo had started. Joe kept looking over Dai's shoulder and telling him when his numbers were being called.
Dai got annoyed and said, "Look why don't you fill in your own card?"
"I can't." said Joe, "Its full."

Blisland WI

Starting at the new time for the summer months 7.15pm and chaired by our new chairman Mrs Wendy Gurr our meeting was held as usual in the Village Hall.

On Monday 21st April several ladies will gather at 2.30 pm armed with large plastic bags and protective aprons and gloves to collect bits of rubbish around the village for "Get a Grip on Litter" Week. When school finishes some of the children come to help us as well.

Wednesday 23rd April sees us hosting the Group Meeting this year with members of surrounding WI's attending. Guest of Honour will be Mrs June Jovy of St Teath who is VCO. A talk will be given about the Cinnamon Trust and entertainment by Mr Bill Warehem.

National raffle tickets are now available. Closing date for these is 30th June. Two members hope to attend Probus Gardening Day on 15th May. This should be an interesting day.

The speaker at our meeting was Mr Colin Vollons, who spoke to us about the training given to volunteers who work for the Citizens Advice Bureaux and how the Bureau was financed as it is a registered Charity.

There are 700 CAB's in the UK. The North Cornwall Group covers Bodmin, Launceston, Padstow, Camelford and Wadebridge. CAB is government funded with some funds coming from NCDC, Cornwall County Council and Town Councils.

The main aim of the Bureau is to offer free and completely independent advice on a wide range of subjects including employment, taxation, consumer issues, credit and debt and family and personal issues. Advice is given professionally by fully trained voluntary and paid staff. Every bureau uses a national information system. All consultations are strictly confidential.

A vote of thanks was given by Mrs Aspinall.

Competition winners:-
Flower of the month 1st Miss Runnalls 2nd Mrs Barwood 3rd Mrs Aspinall
A Piece of Good Advice 1stMrs Pierce 2nd Mrs Masters 3rd Mrs Barwood

The next meeting will be on Wednesday May 21st

St Breward WI April 8th 1997

Another record number of members and visitors arrived at the Memorial Hall for a talk and demonstration of Aromatherapy given at very short notice by Mrs Pamela-Jane Purssell from Tintagel. Our President, Mrs Woolf was treated to a foot massage with the appropriate oils while Mrs Purssell described exactly the actual process and the results that could be obtained with the correct oils.

Eight members will attend the afternoon session by the instructor for the Heart Race on April 13th to learn more about measures to take if confronted by someone suffering a heart attack. On May 16th we are off to Fowey to see "The house on the Strand". Mrs Maisie Wilkie will be our delegate to the Spring Council Meeting on May 20th.

On May 11th will be the 3rd annual Garden Day held at Mrs Paddy Powell's home when many of our members will be lending their strong right arms to man the stalls and to offer a steady supply of refreshments all day long! This has been a remarkable success for the last 2 years, and we all hope that this year will be no exception in raising money for "Arthritis". St Breward Silver Band will be in attendance, and Mr Eric Baker, the former manager of Duchy Nurseries will answer your gardening questions.

Other notices include swimming, golf, planting oak trees for the millenium, Health & Diet and 2 Denman Bursaries - one for engineering, the other for rediscovering French wines - this should cover most members' desires. Added to these Mrs Woolf gave forward notice that she proposes to create and perform a play in October, the subject to be 'Moorland Life in 1897', the year when the WI movement was started.

Members were asked to bring small wrapped raffle prizes and then tick their names off the list so that a supply is always on hand for the meeting. The Flowers in an Egg-cup competition was won by Mrs Pamela Bousfield, and the Prettiest Scent Bottle was shown by Mrs Pauline Metters; the March writing of 6 lines of a mystery story about a house was won by Mrs Christine Woolf.

Mrs Kay Wadey will help us at the resolution meeting on May 13th which she made so enjoyable last year, so do come and air your opinions then.

Wee Jock has been found

After going missing for a couple of weeks, he has turned up out of the blue. Player manager John Bate was very surprised to find him in the home dressing room after a recent match. His initial thoughts were that a visiting team had kidnapped St Breward's mascot but after Wee Jock's comments about his selection policy, the manager vainly tried to persuade the visitors to take him away.

Joe Kay said he wasn't surprised to hear where Jock had been because with his usual comments to linesmen, referees, players etc, he must spend a lot of time out in the blue!!!
