Blisland
I feel that it should be brought to everyone's notice that the 3 Stooges in Blisland have, I believe raised in excess of £3,000 this summer providing refreshments which has been very much appreciated by many locals and I gather many visitors from near and far – i.e. Europe, America and even Brazil.

They have put in very long hours, usually at least 5 days a week. All in aid of the Post Office, Shop and Doctors Surgery.
Thanks.

William & Joyce Matthews of Pengelly thank everyone for the wonderful support received for our Cream Tea effort on 19th August in aid of the Sunrise Appeal and Helland Chapel.

We were fortunate to have reasonably good weather with only one short shower.

The final proceeds were £750 shared equally between the two charities, not achieved without the help of your presence, generous giving and our band of helpers.
Thank you once again.

Out on the peaceful Bodmin Moors, the signpost to Candra has been peppered by a shot gun or a powerful air rifle. The letter "a" is completely obliterated. There are other even worse examples around the moors. You must read what you will into this, but, to me, it does provide something of a warning against complacency. There is violence everywhere sometimes hidden and sometimes for everyone to see, like the damage to our signposts. To those of a more cynical turn all this is no surprise. "Nowt wrong with the world it's the people in it" — so runs the old Yorkshire adage.

We have been shown over these last few weeks how endemic violence is in our world. We have been given a glimpse of a frightening New World in which no one will feel safe. "Is the veneer of civilisation so thin" we ask ourselves, "that men and women out of passion, greed, envy or political resentment will resort to any violent means to achieve their ends?"

Well I for one sincerely hope not. I pray that civilisation will survive. It's taken a long long time for humankind to escape from the law of the jungle. But each of us must look to our own ways as individuals, as families, as communities, as religious groups, as nations. Life is too short for smouldering feuds and disputes. Life can be sweet if we make the effort to listen to others, pray for them and care for them. "Love your neighbour as yourself" does indeed work. It is practical. We will sleep more secure in our beds at night, if we keep to that golden rule.

St. Paul lived at a time when the Roman Empire ruled the known world. They kept the peace, the Pax Romana, for many centuries. The leaders were not always good and just and fair but St. Paul reckoned they deserved the prayers of the people. Writing in his first letter to Timothy he says this;

I urge that supplications, prayers, intercessions, and thanksgivings be made for everyone, for kings and all who are in high positions, so that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and dignity. (1 Timothy 2:1,2)

Good sound advice in these troubled times. Please pray for all the leaders of the nations — both those who are with us and those who are against us. It is the only sure way to maintain "a quiet and peaceable life".

Dear friends;

Christianity is vanquished in Britain. That was the statement made by the head of the Roman Catholic church on September 6th 2001. From where did he get his facts to make such a statement I wonder? Perhaps he used the latest figures of attendance for the Roman Catholic churches in Britain. Perhaps he has forgotten the ethos of true Christianity throughout the ages? Christianity has never been top priority in the lives of the majority. When Jesus walked this earth he spent three hard years declaring the Word of God, calling on people to repent and be saved. How many true disciples did he gain? 500 or so at the most. The Apostles were dispersed throughout Asia and preached the word faithfully. They were not popular; they were persecuted and imprisoned. There was a time in Britain when "religious" people went to church out of habit but all were not true disciples of Jesus Christ. Now, it is generally those who are committed Christian disciples who seek as often as possible to be at worship on a Sunday. Why so few? Not because Christianity is vanquished. It is because to be a disciple of Jesus Christ is costly. Not many are willing to pay the price. Jesus himself said;" If anyone will come after me, let him deny himself and take up the cross and follow me". That's tough talk. Christianity may not be popular but it is alive.
Christ lives within His church, which is the people of God on earth. While Christ lives, His true church will continue to live also. I urge you, come and be a part of this living, vibrant organism at your local church next Sunday.

Yours Sincerely, Brian.

On Tuesday 4th September the sun shone and all was well to have the annual barbecue lunch at our home. Only one member was unable to attend. It was warm enough to sit in the garden for some, while others preferred indoors. I have learnt that to have a successful barbecue it is essential to light the charcoal at least 1½ hours before cooking commences this prevents burnt offerings!

After lunch I was pleased to welcome my friend Stan Jefford from Wadebridge who gave a most interesting talk on New Zealand followed by a video which showed various features of both islands. New Zealand appears to have a very varied climate, from snow-capped mountains good for skiing to extensive clean beaches for bathing and surfing.

Stan also brought along some interesting Maori hand-carvings & beautiful shells, which can be made into colourful jewellery. Many thanks Stan.

Kids Club Wednesdays at 3.15pm

At a recent installation (without pipes or scaffolding) of Revd. Tom Pritchard as Vicar of Roche with Withiel, Bishop Roy quoted this poem, its too delightful to file away; it took requests to our local library in Wadebridge and a call to St Austell Drama Library, then a call to the man himself to obtain it. If this is something that results from Retreats, then we might all benefit from escaping to one. It came from Holland House Conference Retreat and Laity Centre, Cropthorne, Pershore, Worcestershire.

I dream of a church that joins in with God's laughing as she rocks in her rapture, enjoying her art.

She's glad of her world,
and holds close in her heart.

I dream of a church that joins in with God's weeping as she crouches, weighed down by the sorrow she sees.
She cries for the hostile,

the cold and no—hoping or she bears in herself
our despair and disease.

I dream of a church
that joins in with God's dancing
as she moves like the wind and the wave and the fire.
A church that can pick up its skirts pirouetting, with the steps that can signal
God's deepest desire.

I dream of a church
that joins in with God's loving as she bends to embrace the unlovely and lost.
A church that can free,
by its sharing and daring
the imprisoned and poor, and then shoulder the cost.

God make us a church that joins in with your living,
as you cherish and challenge,
rein in and release.
A church that is winsome,
impassioned, inspiring,
lioness of your justice and lamb of your peace.

POVERTY is rife in the countryside because the Government is ignoring problems caused in areas with the lowest wages and fewest job opportunities in Britain, the Rural Development Commission said yesterday.

In the worst cases, men in predominantly rural counties earn nearly £100 a week less than the national average and women £62 less.

"Policymakers must understand that poverty and social exclusion are not just urban problems," it said.

The commission, the Government agency responsible for promoting countryside employment and community projects in England, warned that rural areas were "losing out on essential programmes and funding" because policymakers did not recognise the difficulties.

It also urged ministers to include rural social and employment issues in the work of its Social Exclusion Unit, the Cabinet-inspired body that is investigating the problems of inner cities.

The commission identified eight mainly rural counties, plus the Isle of Wight, with the lowest wages in Britain, and said: "Indicators which the Government and others use to allocate public expenditure and identify and monitor policy issues, overlook disadvantage in rural areas"
The nine areas are Devon, Cornwall, Northumberland, the Isle of Wight, East Sussex, Shropshire, Hereford and Worcester, Lincolnshire and North Yorkshire.

Miles Middleton, chairman of the commission, told MPs: "The peace and tranquillity of the countryside, which brings pleasure to most of us, can mean isolation and disadvantage for many country people.

"Attractive scenery and pretty villages mask hidden problems, yet official indicators do not identify such disadvantage because they focus on accepted notions of urban poverty."

Publishing two new research reports, he said the main characteristics of rural disadvantage were the wide-spread problem of low incomes and unemployment, and poor job opportunities, which were masked by inaccurate figures.

With so few jobs available, many people had ceased to register for them — hiding the fact that the true scale unemployment was as bad as it was in towns and cities.

An acute shortage of affordable housing and poor provision of essential services were also a major problems.

Landowners welcomed the report and said it confirmed what they had been warning for years.
Ian MacNicol, president of the Country Landowners Association, said: "We could not agree more with the Rural Development Commission.
"One of our great disappointments is that neither the Prime Minister nor the Chancellor felt that rural concerns were sufficiently important to be mentioned in the main section of the Government's Comprehensive Spending Review. There was no specific commitment to rural areas."

From an article by David Brown, Agriculture Editor of the Telegraph

On my journey through Ireland last month I came to a delightful little village called 'Vicarstown'. Intrigued by the name we stopped to have a look around.

Around the triangular village green with the occasional tree growing here and there were a total of five houses and seven pubs. Slap bang in the centre of the green was an enormous pulpit, which I supposed was for retired vicars to preach from when they felt the urge coming on. mind you, if they frequented a majority of the village hostelries they would have found the pulpit steps a second K2. A solitary signpost pointed to the nearest village disturbingly named 'Strokestown'.

Pondering on the meaning of life, We quietly headed north. D Lusby

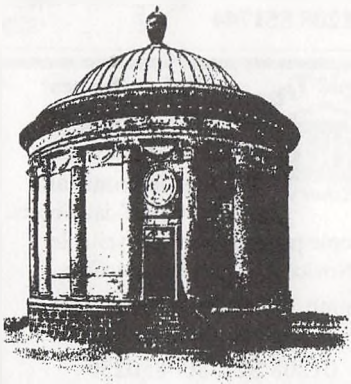
'HEARTSWELL PLYMOUTH.'

Approximately 140 people enjoyed the recent 'Cornish Evening' held on the 15th September in the Camelford Hall. After some worrying times about how many people would come to a new venture, (especially with the Royal Cornwall Show the same day!) everyone was very impressed by the loyal support given to this evening. The excellent entertainment provided by Stuart Biddick, 'The Fishermens Friends' and our resident entertainers of Sid & Caryl, complimented the true Cornish Fayre of pasties, saffron cake, scones, splits, biscuits, and a glass of wine, seemed to be relished by everyone. During the interval the Grand Summer Draw and evening raffle took place. Also a cheque for £2000 was presented to Monica Pearce for the 'Heartswell' fund at Derriford. The evening itself raised another £800 for the Charity, and our most grateful thanks must be extended to all who came and all those people who provided food or helped in any way.

If anyone is visiting Derriford from this area at any time, you would be most welcome to visit the Carers Home to see where your (our) money has helped to complete this project.

Following on from this report, we would like you all to make a note in your diaries for November 24th /25th, when the Crafts for Christmas will be held in the Camelford Hall. This has in the past been held at Wadebridge, and we feel privileged to hold it here this year!

Perhaps with Chistmas just around the corner, it may be a very good time to purchase some presents!!



The Mussenden Temple on the far bank of Lough Foyle opposite my parent's home in Greencastle, Co Donegal. The Bishop of Derry, one of the Herveys of Bristol Cream fame, had the door of Greencastle church placed on the opposite to normal so that he could look across the estuary with his telescope to see who and how many were turning up for Sunday service. If he deemed it worthwhile he would have himself rowed across the mile of estuary to preach the sermon. One of life's true West Country eccentrics. DL

Return of the Zombie

Recently, workers at De Lank Quarry thought they were in the middle of a Hollywood movie set when fellow "worker", Dai Wills began acting strangely. (For some reason Michael Harris said I have to put 'worker' in inverted commas?) He would go off into a trance-like state, ignore everything that was said to him and generally acted as if he was on another planet. Daughter Laura said she thought that this was normal behaviour for her dad and so didn't notice anything different

"Co-worker" Dave Hill said that there was more life in his old Sierra.

Quarry managers concerned at the even lower production rates had him tested for brain activity. They were surprised to find that there was 7% brain activity but testing their machine on a banana in his crib box found that the banana had 25% - twice as much brain activity as Dai.

Doctors soon resolved the situation when they found that Dai had mistaken his wife's sleeping tablets for his blood pressure tablets and had spent over a week trying to keep awake.

If a man shouts, his words no longer matter.

There is no education like adversity.

Revellers Enjoy Last Night At The Proms.

The Cornish fishing village of Port Isaac, noted for it's quaint cottages, narrow streets and idyllic setting, came alive with holiday makers and locals alike all wishing to join in the fun at St Breward's Silver Bands final weekly evening concert of the season, held on the Platt, 6th September.

Not wishing to break with tradition, the band during the second half of the concert, transformed the evening, much to the enjoyment of the capacity crowd, into scenes reminiscent of Henry Woods promenade's concerts, the Last Night of the Proms. Royal Britannia, Sea Shanties, were amongst many other favourites played on the night, all very much appreciated by the promanaders waving flags, blowing horns, popping party poppers, all being carried along with the party like atmosphere of the concert.

Looking back through the record books, it's now over 40 years since St Breward Silver Band first played on the Platt at Port Isaac, a tradition hoped to be continued for many years to come. Letters of thanks and appreciation have been sent to local shop keepers, restaurants, the Platt's car parking attendants, and in particular the Harbour commissioners for their continued support throughout the seasonal concerts.

Playing at local carnivals, church services, and general community involvement is always an enjoyable occasion for the players, for it is at these venues public interest is shown, hence the recruitment of new members. This summer a complete family joined the band, that's mum, and two daughters (one daughter an accomplished player). Mum and the other daughter have already started lessons and cannot wait to join the band during winter practice nights and at next year's concerts. Details on how you to could join the band are shown in the advertisement in this magazine.

Last Saturday members enjoyed their annual dinner dance held at the Barrowfields Hotel Newquay, a break from practice and the preparation for the bands third section national finals to be held this October in Prestatyn north Wales Saturday 27th October.

Exhibition and Rounders Match

The Friends of St Breward were able to hold the exhibition of work, which was postponed from July. The weather was blowy and drizzly, but it did not deter the stalwarts from playing a game of rounders. The parents v children match was played on wet, slippery grass with the gusts of wind both helping and hindering the players. Eventually, the parents were triumphant and were able to huddle round the barbecue, which was providing burgers and sausages. The proceeds from the event, which also hosted a raffle, tombola and some refreshments, were a magnificent £276. Yet again, your support has been marvellous and we would like to thank all of you who participated in this.

And finally....
A special thankyou – written by Adam Sleep and Alastair Feasey.

We would like to thank Christine and Ted Langdale for being so kind and donating a scanner and a printer for our computers. They will be extremely useful.

Not very many of us have ever used a scanner before, so it will be very interesting. Unfortunately, it was put to good use the other day when the photocopier broke down. The maths sheets were put through the scanner and printed, so we had to do the maths after all!

Many thanks from all of the children in St Breward School.

St Breward Neighbourhood Watch

A meeting of the St Breward Neighbourhood Watch was held at the Post Office on Monday September 3rd at 1930 hrs. Dave Powell, Mr & Mrs G Burrows and three members attended the meeting. Apologies were received from Kevin Foster.
The minutes from the previous meeting were taken as read and approved by those present. The treasurer reported that the account balance with the bank had not changed since the last meeting. It was also noted that we have not yet had a response from Ian Burns, regarding the change of signatories on the account. Both Geoff Burrows and Dave Powell will pursue this matter.
There are still some subscriptions that have not been renewed!!!!! If we do not receive these by the next meeting, circulation of the newsletter will be discontinued to those households. Could co-ordinators please check that all members, in their respective areas, wishing to renew their membership, have done so?
It was announced a couple of months ago that the newsletters would be left at the post office for the co-ordinators to collect. Many of the newsletters still have not been collected from last month. Please try and remember to collect yours.
It has been suggested that we redesign the membership renewal forms to cater for second homes and various other items such as telephone contact numbers. This will be looked into and hopefully completed by next year renewal time.
There were no incidents to report this week. It is not certain whether this is because of a reduction in crime or a lack of observation!
We are hoping to hold an open meeting in November for all members to attend. It would be an opportunity to listen to a guest speaker and ask questions regarding matters such as home security, neighbourhood watch activities community policing and more. Details will be announced with next month's minutes and will also be posted on notice boards, nearer to the actual date.

The next meeting will be held on Monday 1st October, at the usual venue.

St Breward Area Community Bus Association

At their well-attended AGM on 7th September Dennis Champion stood down as chairman and Terry Goode was elected. The meeting thanked Dennis for the help he had given the Association in steering the committee through some difficult years.
Officers are: - Secretary, Denis Lusby; Treasurer, Viv Dooley; Booking Secretary, Stephen and Valerie Dingle; Minute Secretary, Linda Belcher; Bus Maintenance, Eric Lowe; Parish Council, Jane Hanscomb; Parents Rep, Ann Hill; Joe Kay and Peter Nottle.

Thanks were also given to Peter Nottle for doing the school run and to Terry and Gill Goode for their tremendous efforts with the 'Bus Stops' weekly draw which had helped to increase funds to over £19,000. We need to replace our bus as a matter of some urgency, suitable new buses costing over £25,000. Terry Goode intends to set up a sub-committee to push ahead with bus purchase. Bus use has increased with the bus was being used for school swimming, church and the football club.

GREEN Welly Trip??

Moorland farmers were seen going over Delphi Bridge at 6.00am. They were not looking for sheep but for the Scillonian. Some had breakfast, some had not. Some had taken sea sickness tablets, some had not – Julie and Jack , baby Phillip, Jackie and Ronald. Some were very ill and when they arrived in St Mary's nobody could face another sea journey to the off islands, so they got into an open topped bus to tour the island. Eric was seen sitting at the front of the top deck, but couldn't find the steering wheel!!

After the trip they needed food but couldn't find anywhere open so they raided the Co-op and had a picnic on the beach.

Raffle tickets were on sale – the prize – a week on the Scillies – nobody wanted to win.

It took 3 days to recover from the experience but all had a great time. Those who had not been seasick found themselves swaying all over the place when they got home.

(I think this is a shaggy sheep story! Ed)

St Breward Parish Council

St Breward Parish Council met on Tuesday 4 September 2001 together with District Councillor Jim Kempthorne, Partnership Officer PC Hellier, Kevin Foster and Jon Webb. PC Hellier reported that in the last three months, petty crime and incidents were very low in the village. Speedsters and cars without tax disks ought to be reported and action could be taken against individuals who continue to be reported. Lack of a tax disk meant that the vehicle was without an MoT, uninsured and the driver could be under age with no licence to drive.

Planning applications and recommendations were as follows:

- Wilburn - Mr and Mrs Marshall - erection of a sun lounge - no objection.
- 18 Rylands Terrace - Mr Sanders - erection of a porch - no objection,
- Newton Farm - Mr and Mrs Hall - conversion of farm buildings into a hostel – The Council could not recommend approval as the proposal appeared to enlarge the original buildings and alter appearances.

If a development is in accordance with the Planning and Design Guidelines, would benefit the village and maintain or enhance the village character, the Council recommends approval. If it is in accordance with the Guidelines and is an extension or alteration to a dwelling, no objection is raised and an officer in NCDC Planning processes the application. However, some applications lack information or appear to be at variance to the Guidelines or appear to leave the way open for future undesirable development. Refusal is recommended and the full NCDC Planning Committee must subsequently review the application.

Margaret Cox and Darren Wills recently resigned from your Council due to pressures of work. The playground fund raising committee, of which Margaret Cox is a member, now has over £9000. On behalf of the St Breward Parish Council, I would like to thank Margaret and Darren for the time and efforts they made on behalf of the village. No application has been made for an election to fill the vacancies. Accordingly, notices have been posted and anyone prepared to give time and energy to assist in village affairs on the Council should apply to the Clerk, Bob Benham, in writing before the next Council meeting.

Jon Webb thanked the Councils for contributions, which enabled the Village Hall to buy new furniture. Hard standing for parking there is for twelve cars for Hall and Church affairs. Cars ought not to be parked on the now restored surrounding lawns.

Virginia Cholmeley, Pam Bousfield and Dorothy Hannaford have reviewed all the St. Breward WI. September 11th. 2001

The president, Mrs C Woolf, asked the members to have a few moments of silent prayer for those people caught up in the terrorist attacks on America a few hours earlier.

Mrs Webb now living at Camelside in St Breward was welcomed as a visitor: several of the Welcome Leaflets have now been distributed around the village: this will continue as members report new arrivals and take these information leaflets to people in their particular area.

Progress is being made on the Royal Cornwall Show entry, the Woman of Prominence being Nurse Edith Cavell because of her connections with St Breward.

The Lunch for Life in August at Mrs Paddy Powell's home raised the magnificent sum of £280 and Paddy received a letter from the organiser congratulating her for the highest amount raised in the Southwest! Nurse Mary Bromfield, well known to many residents, gave the short talk on the day. Mrs C Woolf received the award for the Best written play certificate, and the players were named the Overall Winners of the Outstanding Production: this must surely be a record for one play to receive both awards! Well done to all concerned, and most especially to Christine Woolf for her expertise. Mrs Woolf and Mrs G Daws both attended a writing course at Denman College recently, one wonders why? While there they were able to look at the entry for the CFWI painted by Mrs A Holmes: this book is evidently handled with white gloves

Bodmin Group Meeting will be held as usual in the Methodist Chapel at 7.30pm. on the 18th October entry 50p only: The competitions are: 1) a chocolate cake in an 8' round tin
2) A watercolour A4 size: landscape or seascape
3) A posy of ARTIFICIAL flowers not more than 6' in any direction. More travel details etc at the October 9th meeting.

The craft afternoons will start again in November at Mrs M Wilton's with various subjects to try. There will be a fundraising table at the November 13th meeting for the Pennies for Friendship donation: this will not be a jumble sale.

Two more items about Drama: Mrs. Guen Daws has dramatised 'Wuthering Heights " for the St Austell Drama Group which will be performed at the St Austell Arts Centre November 21st to 24th at 7.30prn.

Mrs Woolf's award winning play will be performed at the St Austell Arts Centre on October 5th, and there will also be monologues: this is in aid of the new County House and Lanivet WI: tickets are £3, please apply to Mrs Pat Dibb.

Wadebridge Ladies' Choir is seeking new members: they practise on Mondays; if you are interested please contact Mrs J Gant for more details.

The speaker for the evening was Mr F Sutton on "the Structure of the Cornish Dialect": as I was unable to stay for this talk I make my apologies for no information about this.

The October meeting is on October 9th at 7.15pm when Mrs. Rosemary Slee will demonstrate "Cooking with a Wok". We shared a table at the Royal Cornwall Show one after the other and it was great fun watching her expertise with all the various ingredients (her samples gave several Show visitors their free lunch!) The competitions will be "a salad on a plate" and a herbal arrangement (no size given) addresses on the St Breward Electoral Roll, which contained anomalies regarding street names. There was no dissension and Virginia will be discussing the work with the Electoral Office in Wadebridge. The Local Government Commission for England reviewed district council wards so that every ward contains about the same number of electors. Our present ward consists of St Breward, St Tudy and Michaelstow. It is proposed that the new ward will consist of Advent, St Breward, Blisland and Cardinham.

The next Parish Council Meeting will be held in the Memorial Hall at 7pm on Tuesday 2nd October 2001. Members of the public are welcome to attend, to listen or to raise matters of public concern.

St Breward Garden Safari

Glorious weather on Sunday 29th July helped swell the coffers of the St Breward Play Areas Fund by an impressive £501.56, taking the total raised to date to over £9,000.

Many thanks are due to numerous local people who freely gave their time to help organise the event and to local businesses who donated prizes and other goods very generously. A special thanks to all those who worked hard on, and opened their gardens to aid this appeal.
