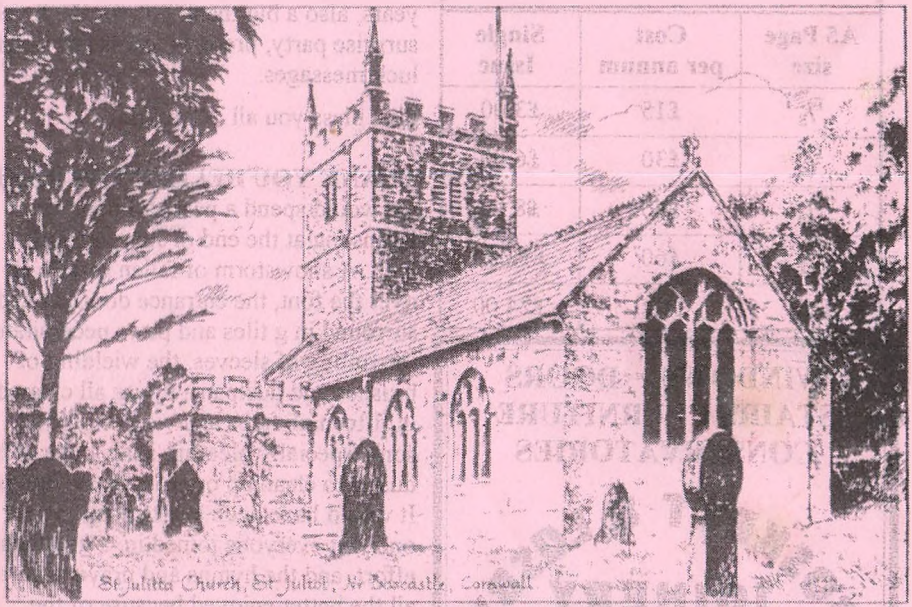
THE COMMUNITY MAGAZINE FOR THE PARISHES OF

Blisland with Temple St. Breward and Helland



Boscastle in our thoughts.

Instead of photos of wreckage and destruction in Boscastle, here is a delightful John Dyke drawing of St Juliet, which is further up further up the Valency Valley from where all the water was to come in such a dreadful hurry.

Thanks to St Breward Playgroup

I would like to thank the playgroup parents and children past and present for their help and support over the last ten years, also a big thank you for the lovely surprise party, presents, cards and good luck messages.

God bless you all. Caroline

THANK YOU HELLAND We thought we would spend a peaceful hour at Evensong at the end of July, no such luck. A snowstorm of fallen plaster all over the font, the entrance doormat and surround in g tiles and pews necessitated the rolling of sleeves, the wielding of brushes and dustpans, it was all cleared in fifteen minutes and we even found some specially pleasant soap and a soft duster to clean up our roughened hands. It would have been a hot sticky job for one, but everyone joined in, a great team effort, and the hymns and prayers were all the better enjoyed because of the unexpected task we had shared. Many thanks. Val Jones

Dear Friends,

I gave myself a treat yesterday, after over a week of being an incurable insomniac. It was time for a special comfort meal. I bought some organic milk, a fillet of fresh haddock some smoked haddock and a bag of potatoes for the fish pie that always hits the right spot when we're (our family) down on our uppers. The organic milk was a good change from my usual semi skimmed stuff, tasted good and was wholesome. So it is with women priests they are a good change, good for our spiritual lives and usually wholesome.

Just watch the programmes about the good lady in Boscastle she surely needs our support right now after the devastating tidal wave that hit the pretty little harbour two days ago. Clergy of both sexes worked through the night to help those whose lives have been wrecked, providing shelter, support, practical help, aided by the Salvation Army who arrived promptly with lorry loads of sleeping bags, blankets and other essentials.

Our Priest in Charge for the Interregnum, the Rev Sherry Bryan, is also deeply involved helping people at their point of need. Have a look at the transformation that has been achieved during her time as Priest in Charge both at Delabole where the church has been adapted to be more community friendly, and at St Teath, where community and church have worked together to provide a refurbished village hall which is shortly to be opened by Tim Rice (yes, you're correct, but my brain is befuddled with insomnia, it may just be Andrew Lloyd Webber's brother Julian) either way it's a good piece of work, providing worthwhile facilities for the village.

It has been said that Scripture teaches the divinely decreed and permanent subjection of woman to man, the inherent sinfulness of female nature, the unsuitability of Eve's daughters for positions of authority in the Church. Such views may betray a misunderstanding of biblical teaching about God, the priesthood, human sexuality, the effects of Christ's redeeming work upon men and women and the nature of the Bible and its authority.
Favourite quotations are: "As many of you as have been baptised in Christ have put on Christ. There is neither Jew nor Greek; there is neither bond nor free; there is neither male nor female, for ye are all one in Christ Jesus. (Galatians'

3: 27 and 28) and "Unto the woman He said, '1 will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy moaning, in sorrow thou shalt bring forth the children, and thy desire shall be to thy husband and he shall rule over thee' , (Genesis 3: 16)

We need to look carefully, prayerfully at the Old and New Testaments and see what the Lord is saying to us. Hebrew theologians did not ask the same questions about sexuality in God and the nature of the priesthood as are asked today. Their true and worthy belief that God transcends all human categories made them unconcerned even to stress the inclusion of what is good about masculinity and femininity within the deity. If Old Testament writers did seek consciously to exclude women from the priesthood, it is extremely unlikely that their motivation was a desire to illustrate the un-Godlike quality of the feminine.

It should be noted that when the term 'Father' is used of an Old Testament priest, this is not in a sexual way sense. When kings, royal stewards, wise men and priests are called 'father' in the Hebrew scriptures the idea is not that they represent Yahweh's (God's) masculinity, nor is the stress upon their own maleness. The term is used metaphorically to signify that the person occupies a position of authority and responsibility, a respected counsellor or honoured guide.

The Old Testament priesthood was not based on a belief that priests must be male in order to represent the intrinsic maleness of God. A person is set aside to be God's representative, to declare his law, to be a channel of his communication and counsel to his people. The person also functions as a representative agent for the community, leading its worship, making supplication and sacrifice.

When the priest represents God he does this as God's representative, not as a representation. Just as an ambassador represents the Queen, acts in her name, speaks for her, but is not a representation of the Queen. He need not be a woman. In the circumstances of AD 1, Christ's mission required him to be male, but neither the masculine imagery of Christ as Bridegroom, nor the historical fact of his maleness affects the theological meaning of his acts.

In my daily Scripture Union reading for 17 August, there is this apposite statement: "Rigidity is the first cousin of a sour personality, of intellectual death, of a spiritual wasteland. What damage is greater for you and your church - being too open, or not being open enough?" Something to consider. Talking about Jesus is about understanding the people we're speaking to so that we can take them from where they are to a place they have never been to; to meet the living Christ. Is there any particular group you need to work hard at understanding better? How can you start1" If you've stayed the course thanks for your patience and perseverance. Sincerely, Val

PS If anyone harvests their lavender, please can you spare some for the Sunday Club? We hope to make some lavender bags for Christmas. Also we may consider a beetle drive/bingo session once a month, so watch this space.

Our gratitude goes to Joey Greenaway once again for all her kind help and support for the Sunday Club. CR, MP, & VJ

Mrs. Skipwith or should we say Princess Sofka Dolgorusky

Can anyone help with further information, I received the following letter from Bodmin Museum referring to a resident of Blisland who passed away in 1994, Mrs. Skipwith: -

"We received a letter at the museum from a Mr Fox who lives in Paris and is writing an article about a wartime German detention camp in eastern France. It appears that one of its most famous inmates was a Russian aristocrat., Princes Sofka Dolgorusky, who came to live in Blisland as Mrs Skipwith and died there in 1994.

Mr Fox is keen to gather as much information about her life as he can and was hoping that the museum might be able to help. It seems she wrote and published her autobiography and there was an article in the Cornish Guardian at the time of her death which the museum is getting copied for him but I should be grateful if you could give this some publicity in the village."

So if anyone has any information you can either contact me, Arthur Ludgate (Hillside, Tregenna Lane, Blisland. Tel. 851012) or contact Mr. James Fox directly at 45, rue de Lourmel, 75015 Paris, France.

Any information sent/given to me I will pass on to Mr. Fox and see whether he will reciprocate with a copy of his planned article. Any information I get I will ask Denis if he will publish it in a future edition of the magazine.

HELLAND VILLAGE HALL NEWS

At last we have received our new portable staging from Felix Design Ltd. This has been partially funded by a successful grant application to the Foundation of Sport and Art. It has already had its first trial at the Auction of Promises and will be used a great deal in the future.

Our next major event when the staging will be used is our much awaited 'Carn to Cove' artist. On 25th October we are going to be honoured with the presence of world famous HANK WANGFORD AND REG MEUROSS. They will share with you their love of the dark heart of Country Music. Featuring toe-tappers and tearjerkers with such divorce-defying near-classics as 'You've Already Put Big Old Tears in My Eyes Must You Throw Dirt in My Face?, ' I've Forgotten What It Is That I Was Drinking to Forget', and 'Never Wear Mascara When you Love a Married Man'.

As well as songs both solo and together, there will be stories and even a bit of poetry – home on the range style. Please come and join us for an unforgettable, funny evening.

Tickets available from Sam 01208 72603, Jenny 01208 75691 and Maria 01208 78762.

HELLAND NEWS

A fantastic Auction of Promises Evening was held on Saturday 31 July, when a staggering £1080 was raised for Helland Methodist Church in just two hours!

Thanks to everyone who promised such an amazing range of goodies, including a flight from Bodmin airfield, cream teas and dinners, a boat trip at Looe, tickets for the Minack and car valeting! Everyone joined in the spirit of the evening, assisted by glasses of wine and hearty refreshments. My grateful thanks to Clive, who once again agreed to be our funny and amazingly able auctioneer and to Colin Mutton for once more proving to be such a competent treasurer. A great evening was had by everyone and we will do it all over again – sometime!

The following article appeared in the October 1982 magazine. It is hoped that newcomers to the village may enjoy this piece of history. It is 70 years ago this month that I first came to live in St. Breward.

Grace M. Masters

St. Breward almost 50 years ago.

One August morning in 1934 a letter from the Cornwall Education Authority plopped through the letterbox of my home in Falmouth, requesting me to take a temporary teaching post in St. Breward. St. Breward? I had never heard of the place, nor had any of my family. Eventually we found a map of Cornwall on which the village was marked, How did one get there? It was not on any bus route - nor near a railway station, and I had to find somewhere to live too.

My brother offered to take me on the back of his Norton motor-bike to seek out this moorland spot. It was easy enough to Bodmin; then on to the Camelford road. We stopped to ask a local at Bravery, who emphatically stressed the danger of the double S bend then in existence there. We passed the Wenford Inn, now the pottery, and finally reached the village shop-cum-post office. There was no reply at the schoolmaster's house "Rayleigh" – he was still on holiday so we made for the vicarage. Yes, the Reverend Jenkins knew where I could stay. A previous teacher, Mrs P. Coleman had lodged 9 years at Churchtown so I was introduced to a dear elderly couple, Mr and Mrs MacDonald, where I was well looked after. That being settled, my brother and I returned to Falmouth. On being asked "What is the village like?" my remark then was "It's the last place on earth, and I wouldn't be seen dead there." Well, I am still here 48 years on, well absorbed into the community and love the place and its people.

So it was on the first Saturday in September that I left Falmouth at midday by train, on my first job in life. A change at Truro, another at Bodmin Road brought me into Bodmin. I struggled down the road to Mount Folly carrying a heavy suitcase. There I was told a bus would stop and travel to St. Breward.

Two young girls came along, stopped and appeared to be waiting, so I asked them if this were the place at which the St. Breward bus stopped. "Oh, yes" they said, "we live there and we'll show you." Those two girls were Beryl and Mavis Reed who lived at Penforda. Finally a bus pulled up – not one of the green C.M.T. buses familiar in the towns, but a private coach run by Willis' Garage, which carried people, post, parcels and anything else. That bus took me to Churchtown and I settled into my cottage digs.

How different everything was from the city and town that I knew. There was no electricity, no modern conveniences or sewerage – no street lighting – but there was plenty of Cornish kindness.

That first night I had a candle to light me up the stairs and into a low-ceilinged bedroom. The pale pink walls were welcoming. I shall never forget the bed. It was large, it had an iron bedstead with brass knobs, spotlessly white embroidered pillowcases with lace edges and a muslin frill hanging down from the headrails. The sheet was turned down "so bravely oh" when I climbed into it I felt as though I was floating in space. I sank down into a warm feather tie. At home we slept on hair mattresses. This was soft and cosy and I slept all night.

The next day was Sunday. As a family we attended Church regularly and I looked forward to the service. Mattins at 11 a.m. was the order of the service then with Holy Communion at the close of the service on one Sunday a month. The organist was Miss Olivia Greenaway – amongst the choir were Mr Cyril Greenaway our present Churchwarden and his brother Gordon. The organ situated in the south aisle needed air to be pumped into it by hand – this was done by boys, one I remember was Sid Skinner.

There was an excellent Sunday school in the afternoon. The trim figure of Miss Blanche Hill, now 90 yrs old, was seen faithfully every Sunday afternoon walking from her home at Mount Pleasant to the Parish Church where she taught generations of village children for over 50 years. Equally regular was her older sister Mrs Elizabeth Spargo who trod the same path every Friday to clean the church.

Evensong at 6.30 p.m. was attended mostly by a different congregation from that of the morning service. The highlight of Sunday evening was the meeting which took place afterwards. The young men who had attended the 6 o'clock Methodist service and possibly others all trooped up to await the young people coming out from the church. I assume some of them must have paired off as the headed off in the direction of the moors.

Monday morning came and down the narrow lane I walked. Mr T.J. Dawe, the Headmaster introduced me to the other staff. Mr. Frank Rundle who later became head of Menheniot School and is now retired, and Miss Gwen Curnow who later emigrated to S. Africa to join and to marry a former resident Mr Cyril Woodley.

I was in charge of the Infants. 35 of them aged between 4 and 7 years. I do remember the youngest was Mr. Dennis Champion, now the manager of Hanter Quarry, and the eldest Mr. Wilfred Matthews of Plymouth. The children walked from Camperdown, Candra, Ivey, Newton and from Penpont and Wenford. There were no kitchen or dining facilities then and the children's pasties were heated in the Cornish range in the infants' classroom. A cocoa drink was made up by the teacher. Those were the days when the coupons were given away with Cadbury's Cocoa. I still use in my bedroom a cut-glass dressing table set obtained in exchange for all those coupons we saved.

At the age of eleven the children who passed the scholarship pedal-cycled to the Camelford Grammar School – 6 miles each way.

My family had friends living in Bodmin so often I visited them for a weekend. What an effort it was. After school closed on Friday afternoon I would catch the same blue Willis' bus leaving St. Breward about 3.30 p.m. with the mail and reached Bodmin at 5 p.m. The attraction in the town was the branch of Woolworth's that had opened recently. The return trip on Monday morning reads like a journey from the Dark Ages. I would get up at 6 a.m., have a light snack and walk from Berrycombe Road near the prison to the Post Office. Leaving in the mail bus at 6.30 a.m. dark and cold on those winter mornings I was always the only passenger. The bus headed towards Bodmin Road, called at Fletcher's Bridge, Mount, Cardinham, Waterloo, Blisland collecting and delivering the mail. Finally at Penpont it came to a halt, the driver called Robilliard, entered the cottage of Mrs Harper to have breakfast! I would wait sometimes half an hour in that cold bus, but eventually after stopping to drop off Mr. Harper who worked at the stores we made Churchtown at 8.30 and school at 9 a.m.

Village life centred around the activities if the church, the chapel, the band and the Nursing Association whist drives, fetes, harvest teas and suppers were the order of the day. 1935 saw the Silver Jubilee of King George and Queen Mary. The houses were decorated with flags and bunting, people dressed in red, white and blue. A fine carnival was held, the most outstanding exhibit was entered by Miss P. Bartlett. She had covered the whole of her baby Austin Seven car with silver paper, the roof covered with an enormous Union Jack, and bells and streamers on the bonnet. A bonfire was lit on the Mine Hill, but before that there was a free TEA. To cater for a village was a mammoth task. Held in the Village Hall – then the Church Rooms. Trestle tables spread with starched white cloths lined the room. It was the preparation that took hours. Three stalwarts of the tea table were the late Mrs Gradden (Kennels) Mrs Maud Colman, Mrs Steve Hawken and the W.I. was usually called upon. They were always behind the scenes cutting up those long crusty loaves of bread (no sliced bread then) for sandwiches – 7lb slabs of fruit cake and numerous loaves of saffron, white and seed cake. All delivered early in the morning by Ratcliffe's bakery of Delabole. Then there were the plates of splits, buttered cream and jam, and other fare given by the villagers. Even the boiling of the water was a Herculean task. The water had to be fetched from the chute at the entrance to the ground, and boiled in Dixie cans over an open fire in the playground and over oil stoves in the school room.

Socially, there was the G. F. S. (Girls Friendly Society) and the W.I. and a folk dancing group. There was a body of keen young men interested in First Aid and Keep Fit. There was a fine football team and the local band played at all functions. A daily paper was delivered to the Reading Room which also housed a fine billiards table.

The Village Stores at Row could provide the inhabitants with every need: groceries, meat, corn, coal, paraffin, footwear and drapery. There was a hat shop, newsagents and toyshop run by Mr. and Mrs B. Polkinhorne at Glenview. Mr. Abner Hawken came round the village on Tuesdays and Fridays with the meat cart, and the Masters family of De Lank Farm served milk from churns carries in the back of a Trojan car that had solid rubber tyres.

Employment in the village catered for all the working population. Three granite quarries and two clayworks and the farming industries served St. Breward and nearby villages. At various lay-bys in the village you would come across a heap of stones. These had been laboriously broken up by hand with a hammer for use in road foundations. At intervals an inspector came round who measured the heap and paid the stonebreaker so much per square yard.

In those days there was no health scheme, such as we enjoy today, but St. Breward was fortunate in having an excellent District Nurse in Nurse Crahart. Her salary was the responsibility of the village who raised the money by staging an annual carnival, fete and chief of all a whist-drive and fancy dress dance held on New Year's Eve which everyone enjoyed.

Such was the happy life in this Cornish rural village until the outbreak of the 1939-45 war; as a result of which new blood and new cultures have been introduced, and we are still a happy and thriving community.

Grace M. Masters

Mr Alex Masters photographed everyone in the village and a really remarkable collection they make: housewives, milkmen, bakers, the district nurse, the lot! They'd still warrant an edition to themselves. As a token the editor included the photo of Mr Tregembo at his work, breaking the stones - an occupation that has passed into history. The rest have modern equivalents although it is interesting to note the old styles of vehicles, dress and equipment.

Music By The River – Concert Escapes Soaking!

Surrounding villages experienced continued rainfall whilst the village of St Breward stayed dry throughout St Breward Silver Band's major fund raising event of the year, Music By The River, held in the grounds of Wenford Bridge Pottery by kind permission of Seth and Bobi Cardew.

Tilleys coach services were kept busy throughout the seven hour concert operating the events park and ride service making sure that the audience, who were armed with folding chairs and torches, arrived safely at the venue. Greeted by the local Girl Guides on arrival they were escorted to the main arena and seating areas under lantern lit gazebo's by the river Camel.

A fun filled programme of Country Dancing, Brass Bands, City of Plymouth Pipe and Drums, Vocal Guitarist, Jazz, and the sound of a Cornish Male Voice Choir, captivated the audience throughout the seven hour programme. Hum's Bar and Clair's Bar-B-Q offered refreshments to all attending this musical extravaganza.

The band would like to offer a special thanks to all sponsors in particular the event main sponsor Helsbury Park, Tilleys Coaches, the media, and local shops and community magazines who so kindly assisted in promoting the concert. Also a big thanks you to all who attended and supported the bands main fundraising event of the year.

St Breward Band were particularly concerned about a lost car left in the main car park for over a day, also for the owners of lost property, a pair of flip flops, two hats, a green coat, and a pair of wellies!!

The winners of the Main raffle being a Mrs P Keen from Spain (Friend of the Band), £200 ticket No: 1931, 2nd prize Jannis £100, ticket No: 7714. 3rd prize £50, Jannis F ticket No: 7713 . Dinner for Two Mrs. Hall, ticket No: 7612. Cut glass tumblers Francis Larkin (Friend of the Band) ticket No: 7046. ST BREWARD VILLAGE HALL

We have said goodbye to the Pre-school Playgroup this month as they have re-located to the school. It is hoped a Mother & Toddler group will begin in the Autumn. We housed a Belgium Scout group for one night recently, a very well behaved group of young boys.

There is now a telephone in the hall for emergency use. We hope to install a payphone very soon and Adult Education is to make use of this facility to have Computer classes in the village. The telephone is an added amenity for the hall and will add to the health and Safety aspects

If you have any events, courses meetings or parties to arrange, please think of your Village Hall, a pleasant hall with good parking for only £7.00 per session.

Exercise Group

We are still at it! Every Thursday afternoon 2.30pm in the Village Hall. We have fun and do our best to ward off the advancing years. We have had two days out recently, to Bude where we had a Picnic and a paddle, and to Padstow by Ferry where we had a general wander, played crazy golf, laughed a lot and ate fish & chips! We plan more days out in August & September, one trip will be from Truro to Falmouth by boat. If you are of a "certain" age and game for a laugh we would love to welcome you to join us. Contact Pat on 850628 or Margaret on 850977.

Please support us. A Grand Raffle will be held. The meal will be enjoyed at Treglanes, Trevor, East Rose, Wilburn Cottage and ending at the Old Inn for coffee and the raffle draw.

Tickets £8 are available at the village stores.

Transport will be available for the 8pm sitting – book when you purchase your ticket.

We look forward to seeing you.

THE NATIONAL TRUST

North Cornwall National Trust Association

A party of 32 members of the Association have just returned from an enjoyable holiday on the Isles of Scilly, staying on St Mary's and having guided tours of the Abbey Gardens, Tresco as well as the islands of St Agnes and Gugh. Already a few people have requested a repeat trip in 2006.

Now our thoughts turn to our interesting winter programme which starts on Friday 17th September, when David Bannister will give a talk on "Some Cornish Gardens of the National Trust".

On Friday 15th October, we extend an invitation to spend "An Evening with Joyce Grenfell" in the company of Yvonne Toms, from Looe.

Both these meetings take place at the Wadebridge Town Hall, commencing 7.00pm. Everyone is welcome. Tickets cost £4.50 for Association members or £5.00 for visitors. Ticket price includes Buffet Supper and a free glass of wine. All profits made by the Association are donated towards the work of the National Trust in this area.

So - come along. Have a great evening and play your part in supporting the work of the National Trust. We suggest you get your tickets in advance from our Booking Secretary, Eileen Treby, The Barn, Church Lane, St Teath, Bodmin PL30 3JF, Tel 01208 850964. Please enclose S.A.E.

For further details about our meetings and the Association, ring Geoff or Hazel Burrows on 01208 850749

CAR WASH

Many thanks to Len & Mary Dingley who organised the "event" and raised over £100 towards the new Blisland Amenity Centre, and to all those who had their car washed so expertly and to those who gave a donation.

Thanks also due to Mill Auto who sponsored us.

St. Breward WI August 10th 2004

Twelve members were present at the August meeting when our president. Mrs Christine Woolf, welcomed Mrs Valerie Hill as a visitor. Although St. Breward WI did not send a representative to the AGM the report by Mrs. Evans was available for our members to read during the evening.

Mention was made of the Denman Autumn Experience from October 18th to 22nd. The Community Challenge Conference will be held on March 2nd to 4th, 2005; more information about this at a future meeting. Three members, Anita Webb, Paddy Powell and Irene Alexander, will serve tea to the Camelford Disabled Club; therefore we are asked to provide refreshments to be taken to Anita's house during the morning of Wednesday September 1st.

Our annual fundraising for the Macmillan Nursing Service (the largest coffee morning) will take place on Saturday September 25th in the Bandroom with a raffle, various stalls and of course coffee and biscuits! Please come along to swell our numbers by signing the "register". This is a very important service used by many when the need arises. We hope to ask a Macmillan Nurse to speak at one of our meetings next year.

The St. Petrocs' Group Meeting will be on Wednesday, October 27th and the hostesses will be Blisland WI; the competitions are;
1. a cherry cake to a given recipe 2. a Christmas card 7" x 5" in any medium
3. a "petite" example of fresh flowers and foliage entitled "Autumn" ; maximum 9½" high x 9½" wide x 9½ deep (a cube). The novelty class is number 3.

Our treasurer, Mrs Jennie Teague, reported that we have a satisfactory balance due to our various events during the year.

Our speaker was Mrs Pat Hill who demonstrated the art of beadlooming using a very small loom, although a larger one is also available. After being shown examples and watching Mrs Hill several members tried to emulate her skill, although it required nimble fingers.

The competition for a napkin ring was won by Mrs Christine Woolf, Mrs Muriel Wilton came second with Mrs Anita Webb third.
Mrs Pamela Bousfield produced the best flower, Mrs Muriel Wilton was second and Mrs Christine Woolf came third.

Our September 14th meeting at 7.15pm in the Memorial Hall should be very interesting when Mrs Jeanette Coote talks about the Bayeux Tapestry; the competition is for a small item of embroidery (not quite Bayeux size) and for the flower of the month.

We hope to see you all there with any friends who might enjoy this interesting subject.

THE ST BREWARD FIRST RESPONDER SCHEME

The St Breward First Responder Scheme is now fully equipped and trained to give patients a fast and potentially life saving service so that basic life support can be provided until an ambulance arrives. However, if you need urgent medical attention, do not call them direct, still dial 999 and the Westcountry Ambulance Services will despatch an Ambulance and then call the responder who is 'on-call' as and when required. The group has been in action several times now and they need your help in the following ways.

1) All residents can assist the emergency services and the patients if would place a name and/or number of their property such that it can be seen clearly from the roadside. We ask you now to make your property easily identifiable, wherever you live. Write your full Ordnance Survey reference number and postcode on a label and stick it on your telephone for quoting to the emergency services. If you want a label and reference provided, come to the 'Services & Safety Day' on 11th Sept where you can obtain a labels and information. If you are expecting the emergency services, make the scene easily identifiable; leave house lights on and the door open. Try and arrange for someone to wait outside to guide them to the scene without leaving the patient alone.

2) We urgently need fundraisers to keep and maintain the equipment whose capital and training costs total over £5000. Why not hold an event or come and help raise funds at the 'Services and Safety Day' at Moorgoods on 11th Sept 04.

3) We are in the course of tailor-making a map and GPS equipment for our area of covers so that there is the minimum of delay in locating the patient's property. Remember that in Category A cases, like heart attack, speed is of the essence, something like 8 minutes to save serious deterioration of the patient.....if not their life. Please check the village map held at the Post Office and Moorgoods to see if your property is marked correctly and that it is there at all! If not, please mark it accordingly.

This service is voluntary and is suitable for people who are generally available to respond but does not commit them to waiting for the call. Instead, response by one is usually achieved by having a group of responders in the scheme, as in St Breward. On-going training will also be given on a monthly basis. If you are interested in becoming a community First Responder in any area, or would like to get involved in fundraising for this Westcountry Ambulance scheme, please contact the undersigned. Lets not lose this scheme!

Blisland Parish Council

The meeting planned for 12th August was cancelled as a mark of respect to our late Clerk Edgar Rowe who died on Monday 2nd August aged 68 years. We said our farewells at the 'Service of Thanksgiving for the life of Edgar Rowe' at St. Stephen-in-Brannel Parish Church on Monday 9th August.

EDGAR ROWE A WELL RESPECTED SON OF BLISLAND

Edgar has been our Parish clerk for more years than anyone can remember. He has been a strong voice for Blisland, a tower of strength and a fountain of knowledge about Blisland and Local Government. He will be sorely missed by many of us here, as he will be for those other Parishes in Cornwall he represented. Blisland's Parish Council Meetings will never be the same again without Edgar there to advise us and steer our meetings to the right course. He will also be missed for his wit and humour, and his time & patience to listen and converse with anyone on almost any topic. From the Parish of Blisland our hearts go out to his children, grandchildren and wider family.

Please note that a copy of the approved minutes for the meeting of 8th July can be downloaded from the Parish Council page of www.blisland.com.

St Breward Parish Council meeting on Tuesday 3rd August 2004

Apologies were received from Mr R Hoskin and Mrs J Hanscomb (both having prior engagements).

Three new Councillors were welcomed to the meeting by the Chairman, Mr Lusby. On Thursday 29th July, an election took place for the 3 Parish Councillor positions. There was a 38.23% turnout for this election. This means that out of an electorate of 759, 294 ballot papers were issued.
The number of votes for each candidate was:

Mrs J Cornelius	221
Mrs V Stansfield	210
Mr M Harris	203
Mr J Webb	82

Mr Lusby congratulated all Councillors and thanked Mr Webb for his support.

Planning Applications

Mr A J & Mrs C J Hoskin –Plot 1, Hill Farmyard, Hill, St Breward: Erection of detached bungalow with annexe and garage. The PC unanimously objected this plan because: overdevelopment of the site; much too large for the site, and not in keeping with the buildings on either side; an ill-defined two dwelling plan.

Mr & Mrs D Clark –Darrynane, Riverside, St Breward: Erection of extension and upgrading of one unit of accommodation. All voted in favour to this proposal. No objections were raised.

Mr D Belcher –Penvorder House, St Breward: Erection of block/granite built shed at rear of garden for storage. All voted in favour to this proposal. No objections were raised.

Mr RJ & Mrs ME Valter –The Gables, St Breward: Erection of dwelling and garage. The Council took a vote recommending approval for this application. 6 proposed no objection, with one abstention.

Mr J & Mrs C Claydon –Hallagena Farmhouse, St Breward: Erection of extension to dwelling. All voted in favour to this proposal. No objections were raised.

Cornwall County Council –Penrose Bridge, St Breward
Listed Building Consent for the strengthening and maintenance works to the 3 span granite beam structure, steel and concrete over slab above granite beams
It was universally agreed to not support the application for the strengthening of 'Penrose' Bridge. The PC Representations: This Bridge is known as Coombe Bridge not Penrose Bridge; Signage for this Bridge needs to reflect a 3 tonnes limit, as the bridge is unsuitable for heavy vehicles; The PC would like Cornwall County Council to review and survey the condition of Gam Bridge all options at present and proposals should be available later this year. He also supported the benefits of the Cornish Key Card scheme and the NCDC Out and About team, who have a vast amount of knowledge and information for all communities. Please use them!

Councillor Millar briefed the meeting about a Government trial called Rural e-Champions. This is planning to cascade the techniques of information technology (IT) and its benefits, to all communities. The trial requires 5 locations. Each location needs an individual to access websites and deliver training. This person then helps others to use the IT. There will be a financial incentive for the Rural e-Champion, and any member of the public can apply to do this job.

The next PC meeting will take place on Tuesday 7th September 2004, at 7pm in the Institute & War Memorial Hall. All members of the public are most welcome to attend.

St Breward Community Bus

The summer holidays are nearly over and it is time for mums and dads to see their little ones off to school again – with much relief who knows!!!!. I would like to ask the parents of those children who use the Community Bus to School if they could ensure that their child is ready when the bus arrives. We are trying to accommodate all those who wish to use the bus and this sometimes means a double trip for the driver. If children are not ready on time this does cause the driver some concern to get to school on time and safety is our prime concern.

If any parent or resident could assist by driving on the school run please contact St Breward Stores, I realise that times can be difficult for some but if you could cover just one school run this would be very much appreciated. All our drivers are volunteers and the easier we can make it for them by the children being ready and extra drivers the better it will be for all.

It has been noticed on recent mileage sheets that some people are recording the trip reading and not the main SPEEDOMETER READING. Could drivers please take extra care when filling in the mileage as this document has to checked and audited to ensure we get the Fuel Rebate we are entitled to.

On a lighter note we have now been allocated permanent parking in the Coach Park for the monthly excursion to Truro. It goes on the first Friday in the month and should you wish to go please contact me on the telephone number below. Our thanks go to Cornwall County Council who have arranged this parking free of charge to us.

Blisland News

Blisland Village Hall opened its doors yet again to an outstanding Art and Craft Exhibition. An amazing £480 was raised for Cancer Relief, over a period of two days.

The quality and diversity of local talent was quite breathtaking. I feel tempted to hang up my palette after seeing what our Art class has achieved over the last year!!! Wendy Parkin exhibited some wonderful paintings too - always giving inspiration to those of us who try to emulate her. Some of the other crafts exhibited included Wooden Spinning Wheels by John Aspinal, Ann Bulbeck Papier Mache, Sue Smith's Handspun, Handwoven Cushions, and Etoile Boxes. There was also some intriguing collage artwork by Josie Hodges.

Tapestry was exhibited by Frances Best. Audrey Pierce and Pat Nelder showed their skills at Embroidery. I am delighted with my beautifully wooden turned pepper grinder which is the first I have ever purchased that actually works - this was crafted by Brian Taylor among other stunning pieces. Barbara Balloch's upholstery was beautiful too and I'm sure she will be in great demand! Some wonderful quilts were brought out of hiding by Wendy Gurr, Betty Donnelly and Mary Pope - something I really want to achieve - every woman should make one in their lives!

I just received a thank you card from a friend who stayed with us that weekend and it is a beautiful Decoupage Bird Card skilfully made by Lynne Holmes, a lovely keepsake! Shirley Runnalls knitting was lovely- Wendy Barwood's needlepoint was very deft and her hand knitted items were on show too. The ever popular paintings by Joan Marshall were exhibited and Harold Rich's Ironwork was intriguing.

I am so sorry to those exhibitors who I have missed out. Suffice to say it was all a fantastic effort by one and all!

Next event is this Friday 20th August as we are holding a Gardening Club Fun Quiz evening as previously advertised. It starts at 7.30pm in the Village Hall, see you there.

GALA DAY for ST BREWARD COMMUNITY FIRST RESPONDERS

Question Where will you be on Sunday October 3rd?

Answer You may well be at Bolts Quarry Farm, Penvorder Lane where there will be a Gala Afternoon for the St Breward Community First Responder Group. We hope to raise funds to provide more equipment for our local Group and for the central fund.

Question What is the St Breward Community First Responder Scheme?

Answer The St Breward Community First Responder Scheme is made up of volunteers who live in and around St Breward. They have all been trained by Westcountry Ambulance Service in Basic Life Support, Defibrillation and the care of of critically ill or unconscious patients and will be called by Ambulance Control to attend emergency calls in the St Breward and St Tudy area which are potentially life threatening. They will provide the appropriate treatment for that patient until the arrival of an Ambulance, Rapid Response Car or Helicopter.

Question Who pays for the scheme?

Answer The team members are all volunteers and use their own vehicles to respond in. They are unpaid and do not receive any expenses. The equipment costs £3500 and each group is encouraged to do some fund raising. Any monies raised go into a central fund to provide equipment and some training for the next village responder team and also to provide replacement equipment and training for the schemes already in existence.

Question How much training do Responders get?

Answer All Community First Responders receive training over three days and are then assessed by an independent examiner. If successful the Responder receives the nationally recognised FPOS (First person on scene) qualification. Every month the members meet and are able to discuss any training needs that have been identified, they are able to arrange training as a group or on an individual basis. Every three months, each member of the group has to re-qualify so their skills are constantly up to date and refreshed.

The Community First Responders are not a replacement for the Ambulance Service but a valuable extra resource for the St Breward and St Tudy areas.

We look forward to your support on 3rd October - think! You could be the Groups next customer!! Look out for local advertising regarding the Event.

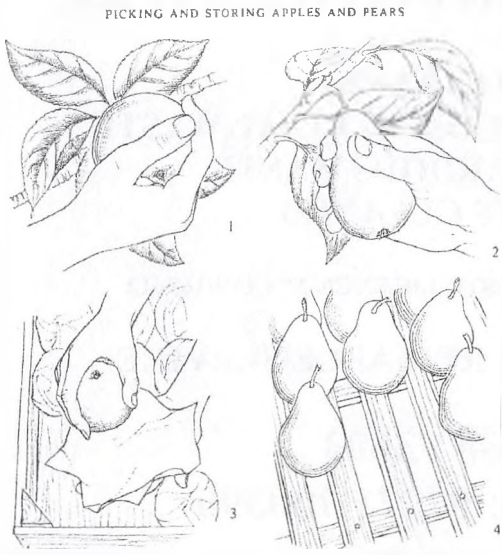
Blisland Gardening Club.

During July we visited the most interesting gardens of Pine Lodge. Although we were a small select few, Mr Clemo, the owner of the garden, took great pride in showing us around, giving us a most insightful tour. The passion and dedication is most noticeable, in that all plants, trees and shrubs are meticulously labelled. Pine Lodge is particularly noted for the diversity of its plants and the range of colour displayed throughout the year. To this end it is going to be used as a study centre for students.



(1) Place your hand under the fruit and twist gently. (2) If the stalk is left attached to the tree, as here, the fruit will not store well. (3) Wrap apples which are to be stored for long time. (4) Place pears on slatted racks in dry, moderately warm atmosphere

Our next meeting will be held on September 24th at 7.30pm. We will be welcoming Alistair Rivers with the timely theme of 'Pruning'. Please come along and enjoy listening to a most knowledgeable and entertaining speaker. We always have an excellent raffle and refreshments are served at the end of the evening. We would appreciate any plants or cuttings for our ever popular plant stall. Many thanks.

ST BREWARD GARDENING CLUB

Our Summer Barbecue at Pennypot was blessed with good weather – we were able to sit very comfortably in the garden for the evening. John and Hillary prepared a very tasty spread for us – a very grand barbecue! - and the event turned into a very enjoyable social occasion (perhaps one to be repeated next year). Our thanks to John and Hillary for looking after us all so very well – we wish you both many happy gardening hours in your new Lincolnshire location.

We have an evening visit planned for August to Illand Nursery instead of our monthly regular meeting in the Memorial Hall. This is a super Nursery to have an enjoyable browse around the many plants and shrubs plus all the tunnels to wander through. The main difficulty is deciding which plant (s) to buy! Ken and Dave Roberts are so very helpful with much information and guidance on offer.

In September we have a Gardeners Question Time with Mr Ken Willcock and this will be on Friday 24th September at 7.30pm. More information in due course. New members are very welcome – just come along and join in.

Embarrassing Moments

Picture the Scene, Val Dingle and Rebecca Rowe happily ensconced behind their table at a recent Wadebridge car-boot sale. The sun was shining, their table looked inviting, they had already sold a couple of items when suddenly their neighbours Val & Dave Gomm hove into sight.

Val's and Rebecca's smiles of welcome soon disappeared when they realised that the salt and pepper pots prominently displayed at the front of their table, were a recent holiday present from the Gomms.

History has not left us any information about the ensuing conversation between neighbours, except to say that salty language and peppery remarks were made by both sides.
